Cattle Prices
Dip But Public
Still Pays High

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department report showed today that slightly less than half the big decline in cattle prices that started early in 1963 has been passed on to consumers in the form of lower retail prices of beef.

Figures supplied by the report showed that prices of choice grade slaughter steers sold at Kansas City, a representative livestock market, averaged $24.44 a hundred pounds during the first five months of 1963.

During the like period this year, the average price was $21.46, or 12 per cent less than a year earlier.

By comparison, retail prices of choice grade beef averaged 82.5 cents a pound during the first five months of last year, but 77.6 cents in the like period this year. This represented a decline of 5.9 per cent in the retail prices.

Some farm groups have complained that the full effect on the cattle price decline had not been passed along to consumers. These complaints played a role in action of Congress, recommended by the administration, that a commission be created to study farm and food prices and other factors in the problem of relatively low farm income.

Department officials said information used in preparing today's report undoubtedly will be supplied the food study commission when it starts its work later in the year.

Black Bear
Succumbs to Foreman Heat

FOREMAN, Ark. (AP)—A black female bear weighing about 125 pounds died, apparently of sun stroke or heat, while being taken by truck to Texarkana from here Wednesday.

George Felton of the Texarkana, Tex., Parks and Recreation Department said the bear appeared starved. The animal ate peaches, cookies and honey from the hands of persons who had watched as the bear was subdued here.

The bear wandered out of a wooded area, apparently in search of food. A Foreman resident chased the bear from a garbage can.

Felton was called and, with the aid of two Arkansas Game and Fish Commission officials, got the bear down from a tree it had climbed at Fortman High School.

They loaded the bear into a truck while 250 or 300 persons watched. On the way to Texarkana, where officials had planned to care for the bear, the animal died.

Soviets Launch
36th Satellite

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched the 36th unmanned satellite in its Cosmos series today. Tass said the satellite carried scientific equipment for further study of outer space.

The Soviet news agency said Cosmos 36 made its first revolution of the earth in 91.9 minutes. Its greatest distance from earth was given as 314.3 miles and its closest point 161.8 miles.

Previous satellites in the 2-year-old Cosmos series have had much the same characteristics.

Wild Natives Kill 50 in African Town

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—Terrified refugees saw warriors of the fanatical Lumpa religious sect spear 50 African men to death in two North Rhodesian villages, drove the surviving women and children into grass huts and burned them alive.

The refugees from neighboring villages said 200 men, women and children died in the slaughter at Chipwata and Etambundu, near the sect's headquarters in the northeast sector of this central African British territory.

Some 1,600 Africans fled Wednesday to the mission station at Mulanga, 20 miles away, seeking protection from the disciples of Lumpa "prophetess" Alice Lenshima who have been on a rampage of murder, arson and looting for more than a week.

Previously, the government had reported 41 dead, including 30 Lumpas.

Troops stood guard over the refugees while the rest of a 1,200-man force of troops and police prepared a full-scale attack on the marauders. Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda, head of Northern Rhodesia's first African government, promised "There will be no appeasement of the sect."

Alice Lenshima, a matronly woman in her 40s, was reported holed up in Kasomo village, six miles from Chinsali. Government officials were reported unwilling to capture her for fear of setting off more violence.

Science Has Never Studied Tragic Relations Between Dieting and Friendship

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—So far as I know, science has never undertaken a study of the relations between dieting and friendship.

Well, there is quite a relationship, and it boils down to this: No matter what he does, a fat man cannot please his buddies. Suppose you are named Alfred, and you are over 40 years of age, and you weigh a pudgy 217 pounds. Let us suppose you are also tired of having lifelong friends prod fingers into your bulging stomach and saying:

"What is that—a watermelon or a conference room?"
"Don't you get tired of carrying it around all day?"
"Alf, all that blubber is making you old before your time."

"Alf, if you won't take that pot off for the sake of your own health, take off for the sake of all the friends who love you. We don't want to lose you."

Well, this last flattering appeal strikes home to the heart. After all, who wants to let his old pals down? Nobody.

So you bravely announce you are going on a diet and slim down. Immediately your friends surround you with glad cries and helpful suggestions.

"Alf, I'm proud of you."
"Alf, you'll feel like a new man."
"Alf, try eating nothing but whipped cream and cold slaw for a week. I guarantee it."

"Alf, eat a quart of dry bran for breakfast, a hardboiled egg for lunch, and a pickled pomegranate for dinner."

So in a month you take off 15 pounds and are down to 202. You are rather proud of your self, but when you meet old friends they say things like:

"It looks like you're putting it on again, Alf. I thought you said

Scientists Elated as Ranger
7 Sails Smoothly to Moon
Landing on Friday Morning

By RALPH DIGHTON

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Scientists watched with growing elation today as Ranger 7 sailed peacefully through space with a cargo of cameras now given an 80 per cent chance of snapping history's first closeups of the moon.

Radioed information indicated all instruments aboard the 800-pound vehicle were in normal condition, including the television system designed to go into action just before impact at 8:25 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Friday.

There was no threat so far of the technical troubles that followed six previous Ranger shots.

Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory which made and is guiding Ranger 7 on its 228,000-mile voyage, says the insect-shaped spacecraft has passed the worst of its hurdles and has a four-out-of-five chance of success.

He upped the odds from 50-50 Wednesday after a minor trajectory adjustment 100,000 miles out in space aimed Ranger 7 at a 50-by-300-mile area in the Sea of Clouds, just southwest of the center of the moon.

Ranger 7 now is cruising while scientists determine whether one final correction must be made before the spacecraft plunges into the moon at 5,800 miles an hour.

Its six cameras, peering out a hole in the side of its cone-shaped body, must be pointed straight down when they begin snapping 4,000 pictures in the final 13 minutes of flight.

Pickering said the Sea of Clouds was chosen as a target because it is in the half of the moon that will be lit by the sun at time of impact.

Sailing Cancels
World Tour

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Former presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger canceled plans for continuing his 18-nation world tour today when he learned of the death of Sen. Clair Engle. He announced he would return home immediately to attend the funeral.

Salinger, who arrived in South Viet Nam today for a two-day visit, is Democratic candidate for the California Senate seat, which was to be voted by Engle later this year.

No Decision
by LBJ on
V. President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today he would want the Democratic vice-presidential nominee to be attractive, prudent, and aggressive with a passionate consideration for the welfare of the people—but "I've made no decision" on the choice.

The President told a suddenly called news conference:

"There are still many people being considered."

He mentioned no names.

And in a session ranging over a wide assortment of subjects, Johnson said:

"Economy—Economic and financial conditions are bright, but his administration still is looking toward the future and giving a close look to heading off any renewed wage-price spiral or any slowdown of the economy. He conferred on these and kindred matters Wednesday with top government executives."

Nuclear Tests—A year ago, a nuclear test-ban agreement was signed and now has more than 100 nations adhering to it. But even were it ended tomorrow, Johnson said, we would be "better off than we were before."

And he said we now live in a world in which "terror does not govern our waking lives."

OAS—The Inter-American system, the President said, "made it abundantly clear that the Hemisphere will not tolerate aggression by subversion."

In a final resolution adopted by the Organization of American States.

Defense Contracts—Johnson said efforts are under way to "keep the tempo of defense programs and a strong economy are helping. Additional measures may be needed, he said, and the Defense Department is making a survey to pinpoint problems and remedies."

Federal Jobs—For the first time since the Korean War, Defense Department civilian employees number below the one million mark. Johnson said the figure stood at 997,864 on July 1—about 6,600 below the goal for that date. He credited reductions chiefly to closing military bases, improving productivity and reducing the hiring of foreign nationals.

Sen. Clair Engle
of Calif., Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., died early today. He was 53 and had been ill for many months.

Engle underwent a second brain operation April 24.

He had suffered partial paralysis and speech difficulty since a brain operation Aug. 24.

Despite his physical condition, Engle announced in January he would be a candidate for reelection to a second term in the U. S. Senate.

This led to differences between Engle and his former supporters over whether he would be able to campaign and carry out his Senate duties. Finally, 11 candidates filed for the Democratic nomination, including state controller Alan Cranston and former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

Later, Engle decided to withdraw from the race, and Salinger was the victor in a hot primary fight.

Another U.S.
Officer Killed
in Viet Nam

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U. S. Army officer was reported killed in a major Viet Cong ambush of a government battalion north of Saigon before dawn today. Government casualties were reported "extremely heavy," reliable sources said.

An American spokesman declined immediate comment but acknowledged that a major action had taken place.

If the American death is confirmed, it will be the fifth in South Viet Nam in the past three days and the 164th in action since December 1961.

The Viet Cong ambushed a government unit moving from the regimental headquarters of the 3rd Airborne Division to a camp north of Saigon.

Scattered action has been continuing in the Ben Cat region for three days, and the operation today was apparently planned to rout guerrillas still in the area.

However, the guerrillas moved first, ambushing the long line of convoy vehicles and inflicting heavy casualties before melting back into the jungle. Government pursuit forces were sent in but no contact was made.

In Saigon, combat engineers removed statues and inscriptions from the French war memorial which Vietnamese students had partially wrecked in a demonstration Tuesday night against President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize South Viet Nam.

By removing all traces of France from the monument's shaft, the South Vietnamese government apparently hoped to forestall further student demonstrations.

The engineers hauled away two huge bronze figures of French infantrymen, a winged angel and a figure symbolizing peace. Inscriptions bearing the names of French war dead were filled in with cement.

Pierre Salinger, California's Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, arrived in Saigon today on a world tour and said he had found some support in Japan for De Gaulle's neutralization proposal.

The former presidential press secretary said in the Philippines he found strong support for the U. S. effort in Viet Nam.

That day he also will visit Camden, Bearden, Stephens, Farindale, Carthage, Tulip, Princeton, Manning, Dalark, Sparkman, Pine Grove and Holly Springs.

King Hopes for End to Riots,
Raps Barry

By RICHARD F. WHALEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said today he hoped that "extremists" would curtail mass demonstrations in their civil rights campaign.

Dr. King made the comment as he went into another of a series of conferences with Mayor Robert F. Wagner on programs to alleviate conditions that led to recent racial riots.

King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was one of a group of Negro leaders who called Wednesday for a moratorium on mass demonstrations until after the presidential election Nov. 3.

Some civil rights leaders expressed reservations on the call for a moratorium, however.

The group that met with King issued a statement critical of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican presidential nominee, declaring he had injected racism into the campaign.

"The senator himself maintains his position that civil rights matters should be left to the states—clear enough language for any Negro American," the statement said.

The Communist party, meanwhile, disavowed any connection with what it called "self-proclaimed Communists" in the Progressive Labor Movement, active in recent Harlem unrest.

Gus Hall, a leading communist spokesman, said:

"These people are not Communists. Their leaders were, in fact, expelled from the party some years ago after a long history of such adventurism."

Civil rights leaders in some cities expressed reservations about the call of the Negro "summit meeting" here for curbing mass demonstrations.

The conference members criticized what they called the states rights platform adopted by the Republican National Convention this month in San Francisco.

In Washington, press aide William Fythe said Goldwater had no comment.

Urging a shift in tactics, they called for "a broad curtailment, if not total moratorium, of all mass marches, mass picketing and mass demonstrations until after election day" and more emphasis on getting more Negroes registered to vote.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, took pains to make it clear that the "summit" statement should not be interpreted as an endorsement of President Johnson's candidacy.

He also said in answer to a question that the action had not been taken in order to reduce the so-called "white backlash," described as the resentment of whites reacting to mass demonstrations by Negroes.

A spot check by The Associated Press indicated that several

House Passed
SS Bill Heads
to Senate Fight

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House-passed bill to increase Social Security benefits headed today into a Senate fight to add to it controversial health care provisions.

The House passed the measure Wednesday, 288 to 8, without the hospitalization features for which President Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy had pleaded.

The measure as it stands would give a 5 per cent raise to the 20 million Social Security retirees and admit more than half a million more persons to the rolls.

Here are a few examples of the proposed increases:

A retired worker now getting $40 monthly would get $42, one now getting $105 would get $110.30 and one now getting $127 would get $134.40.

A man and his wife now getting $60 would get $63, a couple getting $157.50 would get $175.50 and a couple now getting $180.50 would get $200.10.

Senate supporters of the administration plan, however, were already at work on amendments to write into the measure a cut-down version of

Rochester
Fears Riots
on Weekend

By GENE SCHROEDER

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Law enforcement authorities looking ahead apprehensively to the approaching weekend in riot-scarred Rochester—have clamped down on pistol-permit applications.

The temporary ban on the issuance of such applications came as the city spent another relatively quiet night without a renewal of the blood racial violence that rocked two Negro sections last weekend. A four-day suspension of liquor sales was lifted Wednesday.

City and state police continued patrolling the trouble areas, and some 1,500 National Guard troops stood by ready to move in and help quell any new outbreaks.

Fred Moriarty, deputy county clerk, said he had been asked by the city's detective division to issue no more pistol-permit applications to Rochester residents.

The request came after it was noted that Monday and Tuesday brought nearly three times the normal number of applications, Moriarty said.

the hospitalization proposal, possibly as a voluntary option for some of all of the cash increases provided.

The proposals have not been put in final form. Similar moves earlier this year by the House supporters were abandoned in the face of certain defeat by the Ways and Means Committee.

Any such provisions are sure to meet stiff opposition and might block final passage of the bill this year, especially since Congress is driving to adjourn before the Democratic National Convention begins Aug. 24.

As passed by the House, the bill would increase Social Security payments about $925 million annually by setting a new scale of $42 to $133.40 for a single worker, up to $281.20 for a family with dependent children. The maximums would go up in future years, as high as $300 for a family.

The bill also would step up the Social Security tax paid by employers and employees, in part by increasing from $4.80 to $5.40 the wage base on which they are levied. The increase would amount to $31.20 each next year.

The bills would also add about 600,000 aged persons to the beneficiary rolls by relaxing coverage requirements for the benefit of persons, mostly widows, 72 and older.

It would also extend children's benefits to age 22 for surviving children who continue their education and would bring under Social Security coverage self-employed doctors of medicine and internes.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Violence-ridden Rochester, described by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as a victim of extremism, struggled today to regain a semblance of normalcy from a bloody weekend of race rioting.

With its uneasy peace being enforced by hundreds of helmeted city and state police, the city was paid a surprise visit Monday by the governor.

Rockefeller expressed "shock and great sadness" over what he saw during a tour of the riot-torn Negro sections.

Declaring that the racial violence was clear evidence of extremism that cannot be justified, Rockefeller said he found no evidence of outside agitators, however.

He said he felt that there was no connection with the race violence which ripped through New York's Harlem and a Negro area of Brooklyn.

The relative quiet in Rochester prompted hopes that some solution could be found to curb the simmering unrest before the week was out.

Worried officials said privately they feared another bloody weekend might erupt when factories closed and thousands of workers were released for their normal days off.

Rochester's racial strife—fomented by thousands of Negroes and some whites—left a tragic toll of four dead, at least 350 injured and millions of dollars in property damage.

Combat-ready National Guardsmen, 1,500 strong, stood by, prepared to wield bayonets and rifle butts, if necessary, to preserve law and order.

The guardsmen rolled into Rochester Sunday night on orders from Rockefeller who acted at the request of local officials.

The mob violence in Rochester—fueled off when police attempted to arrest a Negro youth scuffling outside a dance hall Friday night—subsided in the predawn hours Monday.

Authorities kept an emergency night time curfew clamped on the city in only slightly modified form. Any citizen found on the streets without justifiable reason between 8:30 p.m. and 6 a.m. was subject to arrest.

Three judges working in 12-hour shifts, released with suspended sentences more than two-thirds of the 800-odd persons arrested in the three nights of violence.

About 250 prisoners charged with felonies—such as rioting, burglary, or larceny—were ordered held for the grand jury—with bail set at $10,000 cash.

TO THE WINNER—Mike Larrabee, the winner of the AAU 400 meter run, receives the best reward possible—a "well done" from his wife.

"Robot" is a word long used in many languages. Derived from the Czech "robota", it came into popular use after 1923 through the play "R.U.R." (Rossum's Universal Robots) by the Czech writer Karl Capek. In this play a society is described which depends on mechanical workers that can do physical and mental work, and then develop intelligence and revolt against their employers.

Inflation in Europe Helps Dollar Loss

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans may get slightly higher returns on the money they lend for short periods, thanks to Europe's growing inflation and trade problems.

The U.S. Treasury is moving to keep short-term interest rates high, although the domestic demand hasn't been growing. It wants to ward off any increase in the loss of dollars to overseas money markets where yields have been rising.

The trick is to manipulate the money market here so that any idle dollars can be kept contentedly at work — unless the European rates take another big jump. The U.S. Treasury makes it plain it hopes they won't.

The domestic market will be protected against such a threat by swelling the supply of short-term government securities. Next Monday the Treasury will offer $4 billion of 18-month, 3½ per cent notes. The total of new short-term borrowing may hit $10 billion over the next four months — even though the Treasury's cash position has been healthier than anticipated.

So large an increase in the supply of short-term securities, it is reasoned, will weaken the demand. Investors may offer

Mrs. John Barrow was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robins and Judy last Thursday, and Mrs. Robins accompanied her home to Helena.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKinnon attended a McKinnon family reunion in Prescott Sunday.

Mrs. Dewey Camp, Miss Kay Camp, Mrs. McRae Cox, and Miss Gola Stark were Sunday visitors in Texarkana and also went to see Mr. and Mrs. Tom Middlebrooks in Ashdown.

Mrs. Howard E. West of Dallas has been visiting her mother, Mrs. E. S. Berger and her sister, Mrs. Walter Verhalen, Jr. for a week.

Before coming to Hope, Mr. and Mrs. West had just returned from a 10-day trip to Nassau, Bahamas.

les than the face value of the securities on the open market. The yield will be that much higher. And, in effect, the going interest rate for short-term money will be higher, affecting borrowing costs of all types.

The United States needs to keep these dollars here, because its deficit in the balance of payments is still running close to $2 billion a year. That means that nearly that many more dollars will leave the country for government or private transactions than will return.

The surplus of dollars, building up abroad for the last seven years, can be swapped for U.S. gold. The Treasury is determined to protect the gold reserves, now officially put at $15.5 billion, compared with more than $22 billion in 1956.

To protect the reserves, the Treasury would like to see the surplus of U.S. exports over imports further increased. It would like Europe to take on

9 Trapped Miners Made Comfortable

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

CAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)—The damp cold of a collapsed limestone mine's depths threatened the safety of three of nine trapped miners today as rescuers intensified digging operations.

"You better hurry and get us out soon," Andre Martinet, foreman of the marooned men, pleaded through a contact tube which drillers had lowered into the miners' isolated chamber.

Martinet said three of his comrades were showing signs of nervous strain and collapse.

"There are three who are fainting," he said, without identifying the three.

CAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)—Nine men trapped in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France spent their first comfortable night in three days as rescue teams drilled through to their position 300 feet below the surface of Mt. Revel.

Food and wine were lowered to the entombed miners Wednesday along with first aid supplies for those who were slightly injured by the cave-in Monday. Playing cards went down to help them pass the time.

"We are all fine, but we are going to sleep now," fireman Andre Martinet told his daughter Janine shortly after midnight through a microphone lowered through the supply tube.

Above ground it was the third night without sleep for many of the workers who hope to have the men out by the end of the week.

This morning a three-inch oil drill broke through into the mine 300 feet below and the rescuers made preparations to enlarge it into an escape hatch.

Champaigne Mayor Andre Socie said the guide drill had gone through hard, solid rock. He said this would slow up the work but meant the evacuation

Spicer Trying to Act Up Again

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller's troubles with people inside the Republican Party may not be over.

William Spicer of Fort Smith, state GOP chairman, said Wednesday that "some overtures are being made" that may cause him to seek re-election as party chairman.

Spicer said earlier that he would not. The statement came after he was soundly beaten by Rockefeller forces in a state GOP Central Committee meeting.

Rockefeller's backers rejected Spicer warning that Rockefeller was trying to swing Arkansas delegates to the GOP national convention to his brother, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Spicer backed Goldwater. At the convention nine of Arkansas' 12 votes went for Goldwater.

Rockefeller said he believes he can heal the party rift by letting the GOP state convention could be carried out with greater safety.

Luci, getting an early start on the campaign swing, has scheduled two weekend trips on days when she is free from her summer job as an optometrist's aide.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's defecting sister, Juanita, has been granted political asylum in Mexico.

A spokesman for the Interior Ministry said papers granting asylum were completed Wednesday.

Miss Castro, 31, who arrived in Mexico City from Havana June 20, requested asylum last Monday night.

Shortly after her arrival in Mexico City, she said on a television program that she defected from her brother's Communist regime because it had betrayed the revolution.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—

Dorothy Johnson, 19, of Pocatello, Idaho, the only Negro in the Miss USA beauty contest, said Wednesday:

Miss Johnson did not place in the contest finals Wednesday night.

Operation Saves Griddler From Death

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Frankhauser, a 27-year-old defensive back for the Minnesota Vikings, was saved from death by a dramatic emergency operation at Bemidji, Minn. Wednesday night in which the time factor was crucial. He had suffered a brain injury in an afternoon scrimmage.

Frankhauser, who previously played with the Dallas Cowboys and Cleveland Browns, was reported improved, but still in a critical condition after the operation performed by Dr. William DeWeese.

Dr. Kent Olson, a neurosurgeon from Minneapolis called in for consultation, said Frankhauser's condition is "as good as anyone could possibly hope for under the circumstances. In cases like these, of course, you have to worry about complications. But he responds to stimuli and the outlook seems good."

"In these cases it's just a matter of minutes," Dr. Olson continued. "The time factor was crucial in this case and they relieved it in time." He referred to the pressure caused by a broken blood vessel.

The injury followed by only three days Sunday night's auto accident that killed two Chicago Bear players, Willie Gailmore and John Farrington.

Frankhauser, a former Purdue University player in his third year with the Vikings, tackled rookie fullback Bill McWatters of North Texas State hard in the scrimmage.

Viking Officials said he got up slowly and said he was all right. He collapsed a few days later and was taken to the hospital when he complained of being dizzy.

Elsewhere, the professional football teams in both the National and American leagues stepped up the tempo of their drills with the opening of the exhibition season only a week hence.

Expansion by Gas Firm Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission has approved Arkansas Western Gas Company's request to construct new pipe lines in Madison and Washington Counties.

The company plans a 54,200 foot line in Madison County at a cost of $201,940 and a 17,400 foot line in Washington County at a cost of $41,515.

The Madison County line will be used to transport additional natural gas to the company's Harrison District. The new Washington County line will enable the company to provide gas service to new customers in an area near Lincoln.

The PSC also approved gas service contracts between the Fort Smith Gas Corp. and the Acme Brick Co. and Gerber Products Co., two Fort Smith industries.

Man's Best Friend Not Crowded Out

By LOUIS G. PANOS
GAITHERSBURG, Md. (AP)

Are the complexities and congestion of man's modern world crowding his best friend out of the picture?

Not on your life, says dog expert Alfred Dick, the new executive vice president of the American Kennel Club.

"I think dogs are becoming more meaningful, more useful, more necessary for their companionship, the joy that can be anyone's who has a dog," he said.

Isn't space becoming a problem?

"You have to live in New York to see how valuable dogs are to people who live in small apartments. I have seen the biggest kind of dog come out of the smallest places," he said.

Dick spoke on modern dogdom in an interview Wednesday night at the second annual conference of the Professional Handlers Association. It was a gathering of dog owners, handlers, show judges, and association members from 13 states and the District of Columbia.

"It has too long been said that to have a dog you should live in the country," said Dick.

"Dogs thrive in cities. Every dog I see in the streets of New York is happy. They must have a place in the lives of the people who own them. They have to walk them before work and in the evening, and that takes a lot of doing."

Dr. Frank R. Booth, a veterinarian from Elkhart, Ind., offered these statistics:

There are 25 million dogs in the United States. This country produces five billion tons of dog food a year. It takes 170,000 tons of steel to package only the canned dog food.

Dog foods outsell baby foods and breakfast cereals combined.

Goldwater to Take a Vacation

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, counting on new-look campaign debates with President Johnson, begins a week-long California vacation today.

The Arizona senator will fly west aboard a private plane. Aides said he wants the journey to be a vacation trip and nothing else.

Goldwater's first California stop is an exclusive, 2,600-acre retreat called Bohemian Grove, 80 miles north of San Francisco.

The senator plans to stay there through Saturday as the guest of retired Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer. The retreat is divided into about 125 separate camps. Goldwater will be stopping at one called the Caveman Club.

On Saturday, Goldwater plans to fly to Newport Beach, south of Los Angeles, to rest with his wife, who is vacationing there.

He expects to fly back to Washington next Wednesday for a round of talks with GOP members of the House and Senate Aug. 6 and 7.

Goldwater told newsmen on the eve of his departure he was not surprised there was no quick response from the White House after his Tuesday declaration he was "ready, willing and able" to debate Johnson.

"I think when the time comes he'll be willing to debate," Goldwater said.

He said that late in August 1960, Richard M. Nixon still had not made up his mind to face John F. Kennedy in the series of television campaign debates.

Goldwater has said the debates were a mistake for the Republicans, and one that contributed to Nixon's defeat.

The senator said he is still apprehensive about debates involving Johnson because he fears U.S. secrets might be aired in the heat of a live television debate.

He suggested a revised format, skipping the reporters' questions that were a fixture of the Kennedy-Nixon debates.

Instead, Goldwater said, his staff and Johnson's could discuss in advance material that could be covered "without having to fear secret or top secret disclosures."

"I think it would be better to have a problem stated and then both sides present their solution," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said that his meeting with Johnson last Friday convinced him that civil rights tensions will not be injected into the campaign by either nominee or the men around him.

Negro Boy's Death Ruled a Suicide

ATLANTA (AP)—The death of a Negro boy found mysteriously hanged four weeks ago has been officially listed as suicide.

Dr. Henry M. Snell, Fulton County medical examiner, in a certificate signed Wednesday gave the cause of death as "asphyxia due to hanging." The verdict: suicide.

The body of 14-year-old Jerry Maxey was found July 1 hanging from an oak tree in a lonely wooded area of northwest Atlanta.

But the boy's father, Robert Maxey Sr., said he could not accept the suicide finding.

"Jerry wouldn't have killed himself," he declared. "I don't believe it."

I took a 244-131 roll-call vote to get the bill to conference, normally a routine procedure. Opponents blocked the easy route to conference last week and demanded a roll call today in a final attempt to hold it back.

The bill, passed 243-167 by the House last month, would raise the pay of 1.7 million federal workers. Members of Congress and Cabinet officials would get $7,500-a-year increases.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A team of Public Health Service scientists in Louisiana has been alerted to investigate a series of new fish kills in five bayous and canals of Southern Louisiana.

Announcing this today, the Public Health Service said that the Louisiana Water Pollution Control Agency had reported the kills in sugar cane growing areas in the week of June 29-July 6.

The service scientists were in Louisiana helping on the problem of massive fish kills in the lower Mississippi River last fall and winter. The reported cause of those kills was the pesticide endrin.

Welfare Department officials said that the water from the bayous and canals involved in the present fish kills does not flow into the Mississippi or the Atchafalaya Rivers, where last fall's kill occurred.

The bayous and canals are: Grand Bayou, Bayou Blanch, Theriot Canal, Bayou Chevreuil and Company Canal.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has told Communist China that it wants a showdown meeting of the world's Communist parties on the Moscow-Peking split "without delay," it was announced today.

The Russians called upon Peking leaders to agree in principle "in the immediate future" that a meeting must be convened and that it should not be put off for long.

The demand was made in a letter to Peking dated June 15. The letter was published in the Soviet parts theoretical organ "Kommunist", and summarized by the news agency Tass.

The letter was a reply to a Chinese letter of May 7 which

Giants Beat Phils; Cards, Braves Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

You're Dennis Bennett, the Philadelphia Phillies' hard-throwing young left-hander. Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco's slugging first baseman is at bat.

Bennett fanned Cepeda in the second inning of Wednesday night's 6-3 Giants' victory over Philadelphia and it led to Willie McCovey. For the Phillies, that meant nothing but trouble.

Cepeda wrenched his right shoulder chasing Bennett's pitches and had to leave the game in the top of the sixth inning. Giant Manager Alvin Dark inserted McCovey, who's been fighting a season-long slump and the move paid off handsomely.

McCovey looked like the same old .203 hitter striking out in the sixth but in the eighth, his two-out double scored Willie Mays with the tying run as the Giants pulled even at 3-3.

Two innings later the Giants had loaded the bases against Phillie relief ace Jack Baldschun. McCovey worked the count full and then rapped a two-run single up the middle putting the Giants on top to stay.

Sharing the hero - roles with McCovey were Juan Marichal, whose four-hitter throttled the Phillies, and Jim Ray Hart, who belted a pair of solo homers to balance circuits by Richie Allen and Ruben Amaro in the early innings.

Elsewhere in the NL, Pittsburgh beat Houston 5-2, St. Louis whipped Chicago 9-1 and Milwaukee turned back Cincinnati 6-2. New York and Los Angeles were rained out.

In the American League, Washington went 12 innings before defeating Cleveland 4-1. Detroit nipped Chicago 3-2, Boston edged Kansas City 3-2, Baltimore shaded Minnesota 4-3 and New York blanked Los Angeles 5-0.

"You never know about this game," said Dark after McCovey's hits bailed the Giants out and moved San Francisco back within a half-game of the Phillies.

For Marichal, the league's second 15-game winner, it was a strong performance. He retired the last 19 men he faced and didn't allow a hit after the fourth inning.

Roberto Clemente, the NL's leading hitter, raised his average to .45 with two hits and drove in a pair of runs in the Pirates' victory. Bob Friend went the distance for his ninth

LL All Stars Easily Down Arkadelphia

By Jimmy Singleton
Hope's Little League All Stars took a high scoring 21 to 12 victory over the Arkadelphia team last night behind the hurling of Barham. Hurley suffered the loss.

Tonight the Hope team goes to Smackover for a game at 7 o'clock. The field is located just behind the football stadium.

Doctor's League games that were scheduled for tonight will be played on Friday night.

Arkansan Wins National Event
WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — Caroline Johnson of Little Rock, Ark., won the women's free style division of the 19th annual National Field Archers Association Tournament here Wednesday.

She scored 899 points to 881 for Jane Waite of Tyrone, Pa., and 874 for Sue Smith of Lansing, Mich.

The tournament went into the hunter's round today.

Travelers Lose Player to Phils
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies have recalled catcher Pat Corrales from Little Rock of the Pacific Coast, the club said Wednesday night.

To make room for the 23-year-old Corrales, the Phils returned win in 12 decisions and his batteryman, Jim Pagliaroni, belted a home run.

Houston's Dick Farrell, who hasn't won in six weeks, lost his seventh against 10 victories.

Farrell became the major league's first 10-game winner June 14 and has failed to win in 10 starts since then.

St. Louis sent 12 batters up in a seven-run seventh inning to rout the Cubs. The splurge came against Lew Burdette, Bobby Shantz and Lindy McDaniel, all former Cardinals.

Curt Simmons didn't allow a hit for 5 1/3 innings and picked up his 11th victory as the Cardinals won their fifth straight.

The Braves jumped on Joe Nuxhall for five quick runs in the first inning and that was all Tony Cloninger needed to coast two-run double was the key hit to his 10th victory. Joe Torre's two-run double was the key hit in the big inning.

Chico Ruiz, brought up from San Diego last week, drove in both Reds' runs with a single and a double.

The Mets led the Dodgers 3-0 after one inning before rain forced postponement of their game.

Bouton Hurls Yanks to Win by Shutout

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jim Bouton, who made baseball news last winter by demanding a 100 per cent pay raise — and was refused — continues his mastery of the pesky Los Angeles Angels.

Bouton, the New York Yankees' determined pre-season hold-out, stopped Los Angeles 5-0 on four hits Wednesday night, extending his scoreless inning string over the Angels to 37.

The victory was Bouton's 11th against eight defeats, making him the second biggest winner for the American League leaders. Whitey Ford is the biggest with 12.

The 25-year-old right-hander wasn't in much of a mood to do any winning for the Yankees during their contract hassle in March.

Bouton, remaining at home in New Jersey, wanted a 100 per cent increase in salary to $20,000 for his 21-7 performance in 1963. New York offered a top figure of $18,000.

Then, General Manager Ralph Houk issued Bouton an ultimatum: Either he report to spring training camp or have $100 per day lifted from his pay.

Finding no other way out, Bouton gave in.

All of the hits off him Wednesday night were singles and he let only one Angel past first base.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore outlasted Minnesota 4-3, Detroit nipped Chicago 3-2, Boston edged Kansas City 3-2 and Washington downed Cleveland 4-1 in 12 innings.

In the National League, San Francisco defeated Philadelphia 6-3 in 10 innings, Milwaukee knocked off Cincinnati 6-2, Pittsburgh beat Houston 5-2 and St. Louis trounced Chicago 9-1.

Rain washed out Los Angeles at New York.

The Yankees grabbed a 3-0 lead against starter Bo Belinsky, with two runs scoring in the second on Jim Fregosi's two-base throwing error.

Clete Boyer's sacrifice fly and another coming home on Mickey Mantle's single in the third. Elston Howard drove in the last two with a bases-loaded single in the seventh.

The Orioles remained one game behind the Yankees in the AL race. Homers by Sam Bowens, with one on in the third, and Norm Siebern, none on in the seventh, supported clutch relief pitching by Harvey Had-dix and Stu Miller. Harmon Killebrew slammed his 35th homer, a two-run blast, in the fourth.

Detroit came from behind on Gates Brown's eighth-inning two-run homer off Frank Baumann, who replaced starter Ray Herbert after Al Kaline singled with one out. Until that inning, Herbert had a fourth-hit. Norm first baseman Costen Shockley to their Little Rock farm team.

Corrales led Little Rock with a .323 average this season. He had seven home runs and 42 runs batted in.

Don Lock drove in all of the Senators' runs in their 12-inning victory. He homered in the sixth then crashed a three-run blast off Gary Bell in the 12th.

The Indians scored in the second when Chico Salmon walked, stole second and came home on Woody Held's single.

Two errors helped the Red Sox defeat the Athletics. Ed Bressoud walked in the ninth and raced to third as pitcher Diego Segui threw wildly trying to pick him off first. He then scooted home with the winning run as shortstop Bert Campaneris fumbled Bob Tillman's grounder.

Jim Gentile clouted a two-run homer for the A's in the fifth and Carl Yastrzemski tied the game with a homer in the Boston eighth.

Conference of Rights Leaders

By RICHARD F. WHALEN
NEW YORK (AP) — Leaders of the nation's major civil rights organizations meet in a "summit conference" today, with Negro race riots and national politics high on the agenda.

Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, warned in his call for the meeting on the possibility of "increasingly violent and futile disorders."

Besides Wilkins, those scheduled to meet at the NAACP headquarters are Whitney M. Young, executive director of the Urban League; A. Philip Randolph, chairman of the National Negro American Labor Council; John Lewis, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee; James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality; and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

In his invitation to the other leaders, Wilkins called the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona as the Republican candidate for president a factor that could "produce the sternest challenge we have yet seen."

He had said shortly after the Republican convention that among Goldwater's supporters "are some of the most outspoken racists in America."

King and Mayor Robert F. Wagner held a second round of talks Tuesday on ways to prevent further racial violence in New York City.

An aide to the mayor said there were telephone calls to the White House and federal agencies in a "joint effort by all participants to increase federal participation" in various city programs, such as job retraining and aid to youth.

Negro sections here and in Rochester, N.Y., where bloody rioting broke out last weekend, were quiet. A curfew in Rochester was lifted, but a ban on liquor sales continued and 1,200 National Guard troops were standing by.

In Medford, Mass., several hundred white and Negro teenagers battled at a dance hall after a Negro youth tried to cut in on a white couple. Police subdued the window-smashing crowd within an hour. A dozen teenagers suffered minor injuries.

Invited by the mayor, King came here Monday night on what he called "a peace mission."

Wilkins issued his call for a meeting last Thursday after five days of racial rioting, looting and vandalism in Harlem and in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn. One Negro was shot and killed, hundreds were injured and the property damage was estimated at $1 million.

Debates Gave Kennedy His Victory

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The day after John F. Kennedy squeaked through to victory in the 1960 elections his brother and campaign manager, Robert F. Kennedy, said it couldn't have happened if Vice President Richard M. Nixon hadn't agreed to those four debates on nationwide television and radio.

The next day President-elect Kennedy said the same thing.

A few months later the delegates to the Republican National Convention in 1960 were polled by the Indianapolis News which asked what they thought had caused Nixon's defeat. The consensus of 780 of the 1,331 delegates was that the big mistake was Nixon's debates with Kennedy.

Much later President Kennedy said he would debate his Republican opponent in 1964. But by then Kennedy had enormously built up his popular support. President Johnson, in office only a little more than eight months, is still trying to build up his.

The lesson of 1960 can hardly be lost on Johnson, a man who figures the angles. Only this week it became known he is thinking of making few barnstorming trips in this year's campaign, explaining to his Cabinet how highly successful President Roosevelt was in the 1936 and 1940 elections when he tightly limited his electioneering.

It's no wonder he hasn't responded yet to Sen. Barry Goldwater's challenge to debate in front of the nation or that his press secretary, George Reedy, told newsmen Wednesday such a debate is not a matter the Democrats would consider until the campaign begins next September.

At the time of the 1960 debates Nixon by the fact of his office, had been in the public eye seven years and was a national figure while Kennedy, except for such exposure as he got in the 1960 primary contests, was a relatively unknown senator from Massachusetts.

The four debates, with an audience of perhaps 70 million people watching each time, gave Kennedy an audience he couldn't otherwise have reached no matter how hard he campaigned. And Nixon, by an accident of wrong make-up and lighting, got off on the wrong foot in the very first debate. Besides, the four so-called debates were not debates on the issues. The liveliest was the Quemoy-Matsu question. Instead of discussing issues, the two men were stating positions and by the fourth debate were repeating themselves.

A lot of voters almost certainly made their choice on what they thought came through their television screens — like personality and sincerity or the lack of — and neither man was able to reveal his thinking fully in the limited time they had to answer questions from newsmen and television commentators.

Last January Goldwater said if he was president he wouldn't debate a candidate running against him. He said: "Why buy his audience? Let him get his own." And he added: "I think it's kind of dangerous to subject a president of the United States to questioning and debate."

"After all, his is the most responsible job in the world and he might just slip and say something inadvertently that could even change the course of history."

In other statements he said: "I don't think a president should debate anybody. I would excuse a president who refuse to debate."

Goldwater himself refused to debate New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton. They were willing to but Goldwater said he could "understand why Nelson and Bill would welcome a little help in getting an audience but I think getting their own."

Two days ago Goldwater told House Republicans he is "ready, willing, and able" to debate Johnson. But Wednesday he said he is still "apprehensive" about the possibility that secret information could slip out in a wide-open meeting.

He said he thinks Johnson will eventually agree to debate him. But Johnson has an audience already. Simply because he's president he can stay in the public eye daily through the campaign, with pronouncements and televised news conferences. Goldwater can't match that, no matter how much money he spends.

status with undisguised impatience.

"I've already gotten four fan letters," she announced breathlessly. "And I can't imagine how anybody knew about me."

Debbie and I were joined for the studio luncheon break by Richard Denning, television's former "Mr. North" and "Michael Shayne," who is playing her father in the series.

On the joys of being a public figure, he said: "At first, it's marvelous. You really get a kick out of having people nudge each other when they see you and whisper your name. You get a great thrill out of being asked for autographs and addressed by strangers. But after awhile there are times when you wish people would let you alone."

Debbie listened politely and murmured sympathetically, but it was obvious that she couldn't imagine fame ever becoming a bore.

Helen Trubel, the former Metropolitan Opera Wagnerian soprano and once a favorite television playmate of Jimmy Durante, has been cast as Tony Franciosa's mother in ABC's forthcoming comedy "Valentine's Day"—playing a former opera star.

"What's My Line?" has jumped into the Nielsen top ten during the warm weather, its annual demonstration that the audience will hunt for fresh material.

Shorty A Short Short Story © 1964 by NEA, Inc. THE "A" STUDENT

By Lida W. Pyles

The courtroom was crowded and far too warm when the jury ended its deliberation over the fate of Arthur Lane, charged with embezzlement.

Someone should open a window, I thought. Then I realized I was not in a school room and the dignified gentleman behind the "desk" at the front of the place was not a teacher. He was a judge.

For more than three decades I had been principal of the village school. During this time I had applied bandages and discipline and I had acted as a judge and policeman as well. I had given encouragement and advice. I still kept track of my former students through local papers, wedding invitations and birth announcements.

But now I had reentered the life of Arthur Lane, one of my former students, in a way that I had never acted before. I had been summoned to appear as a character witness for him in criminal court.

Since graduation from college, Arthur had worked in a local bank. I had heard the testimony and I had told the court how he had been such a bright student—straight A's—as long as he had been in my school. I could hardly believe this young man had embezzled money.

But now the jury of 10 men and two women, who also had listened, were bringing in a verdict. I hoped they would give Arthur benefit of doubt, but it was hard to doubt the facts and figures the prosecutor had presented.

Arthur came in, accompanied by his lawyer and a sheriff's deputy. I glanced at him. He was just an older version of the eager, bright-eyed boy I had known in school.

I recalled him as a pupil in sixth grade, when he came to me with his report card, showing straight A's. He was very excited, and his shrill voice piped:

"Gee, Miss Eden! Do you know what?"

"No, Arthur," I said, "I don't know what."

"Mother promised me a dollar for each A on my report card!"

I continued to smile. "And what are you going to do with all your money?"

"I'm going to buy a bicycle. I've already saved the money I earned by doing odd jobs and now I'll get $12 more."

I looked at the card which he held up to my eyes. "But there are 18 A's on the card, Arthur. Haven't you learned to count?"

His dark brown eyes looked straight into mine and he shook his head. "No, Miss Eden. Only 12 of the A's count."

The judge was rapping his gavel and I broke off my thoughts. The courtroom grew quiet.

The jury had been seated and the judge turned toward the box. "Have the ladies and gentlemen of the jury reached a verdict?" he asked.

A tall, rangy man, a salesman for a wholesale feed concern, rose to his feet. He clutched a folded paper in his right hand.

"Yes, your honor," he said. "We have reached a verdict."

I glanced at Arthur who was leaning forward, his arms resting on the table in front of him. I saw the lawyer pat his arm, as if to steady him. But neither Arthur nor the lawyer took his eyes off the jury.

"Poor boy," I thought. "I've helped him all I can."

I was afraid I had not helped him enough. Even though I told what an intelligent youth he had been, and how he made straight A's to earn money for a new bicycle.

"Will you please read your verdict?" the judge asked the foreman.

The tall salesman unfolded the paper, adjusted his throat. Then, he read in a loud, clear voice:

"We, the jury, find the defendant, Arthur Lane, guilty of embezzlement as charged."

While the jury was polled I recalled the rest of the conversation I had had with Arthur so many years ago.

"Why doesn't your mother count all of your A's, Arthur?" I had asked him.

"You see, Miss Eden," Arthur explained, "there are six A's for department. Mother said she didn't care about me being good. She only wanted me to be smart."

Arthur Lane had been smart. Too smart for his own welfare. And as a result he hadn't learned to count the things that really counted.

Meat Import Quota Gets by Senate

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials today looked to the House to kill a meat import quota bill passed by an overwhelming 72-15 Senate margin.

The legislation, long sought by the livestock industry, won votes from 50 Democrats and 22 Republicans late Tuesday after a six-hour Senate debate.

Only nine Democrats and six Republicans, mostly from large consumer states, opposed it.

The bill would establish quotas on beef, veal and mutton imports based on 1959-63 levels. This would mean a cut to about 1.2 billion pounds from the record 1.7 billion level of last year — a 30 per cent reduction.

The bill's foes said the measure had a strong political appeal in the Senate because the cattle industry has become nationwide and affects a majority of the states.

But they argued the bill would

Double Murder, Suicide Ruled

KELSO, Wash. (AP) — A former Arkansas couple and John Ylonen of nearby Castle Rock were found dead here Monday in what a coroner ruled Tuesday was double murder and suicide.

Coroner Glenn A. York ruled that Whitney E. McDaniel, formerly of Womble, Ark., shot his wife, Cecile, 64, and Ylonen, about 58, and then took his own life with a .38 caliber revolver. McDaniel, 65, was found dead in the kitchen of his home. The other two bodies were in another room.

inevitably lead to higher prices and that the consumer interest would be more important in the House.

The administration was counting on the strong liberal trade majority in the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles all such legislation, to defeat the meat bill.

The measure's Senate supporters said that meat imports rose to record levels last year and that this was the biggest factor in a severe price drop to the lowest point in 18 years.

SHORT RIBS

By Frank O'Neal

Beatles, may well be the surprise film of the year. The surprise is that it is good.

Movies designed to cash in on the curiosity value of headline personalities have traditionally been slapdash affairs that have pleased nothing beyond curiosity.

It was therefore only natural that a reviewer would approach "A Hard Day's Night" expecting little more than the tape recording of an orgiastic Beatle concert which was shown in theaters two months ago.

The film turns out to be considerably more than that. The unshorn quartet may be with us for a long time to come, not as freaks but as qualified entertainers.

Producer Walter Shenson and writer Alun Owen wisely chose to forego any semblance of a plot. They portray John, Paul, George and Ringo — that's the order of their billing — as what they are: Beatles.

What impels the flimsy craft along is the introduction of the character of Paul's grandfather, an over-age rake played with delicate skill by Wilfrid Brambell. His mischief-making adds to the travails suffered by the Beatles at the hands of their fanatical fans.

The movie opens with a mad scramble by the foursome to escape their following and board a train. It ends with a television performance which pours forth enough of their twangy chantings to satisfy the most devoted Beatle-maniacs.

In between, the banter flies at a rapid clip. The wisecracks among the Beatles, their handlers, grandpa and various bystanders are sometimes too fast — and occasionally too British — to comprehend. The comedy follows the pattern of vintage Marx Brothers or early Three Stooges, though not as hilarious as either. But then, the Beatles are new at it.

All four register as personalities. Ringo Starr is an ideal target for abuse because of his nose and height, and he shines in a Chaplinesque escape to the simple pleasures of life. Paul

McCartney is puckish and refreshing, and John Lennon and George Harrison do well in the more-or-less straight roles. Warning to adults: Under no circumstances should you see "A Hard Day's Night" at a matinee. Proceed with caution at other times.

Incident at Dance Brings Race Trouble

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A Negro youth's attempt to cut in on a white couple at a teen-age dance turned the affair into a swirling mass of battling youths of both races.

Police of five Greater Boston communities brought the melee under control within an hour Tuesday night but not before some teenagers suffered minor injuries.

One youth, 16-year-old Joseph W. Sacco of Medford, remained hospitalized today. He was transferred to Massachusetts General Hospital with a head injury after being hit with a stone.

Several hundred of the 1,200 whites at the dance were involved in the fracas, police said. No arrests were made.

Medford is a residential-industrial city of some 65,000. The city has a substantial Negro population.

The trouble developed, police said, when about 50 Negro youths showed up at the dance without female companions. The Negro group stood in a solid stag-line at the edge of the dance floor but there was no disturbance until one Negro youth tried to cut in on a white couple.

Immediately, fists began to fly and the dance turned into a nightmare of battling boys.

Eleven Medford policemen, on special duty at the hall, were joined by a detachment rushed from police headquarters. They maneuvered the crowd toward exits and reinforcements arrived from adjoining cities of Everett, Somerville, Malden and Cambridge.

Outside, the battling mob used rocks as weapons and shattered windows in the dance hall, cars parked in the area, and several buses. Other youths, snapped off radio antennae from cars and used them as whips in the fracas.

The management told police they had noticed a gradual increase in recent nights of Negro youths, without girls, showing up at the dance hall. As a precaution, the 11 Medford officers were hired for special duty.

Police herded the youths onto buses which had been waiting

First Tropical Storm Brewing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Aircraft kept an eye today on an easterly wave far out in the Atlantic Ocean that the Weather Bureau said was "within splitting distance" of becoming the season's first tropical storm.

Hurricane hunter planes reported Wednesday the disturbance intensified little.

A Weather Bureau official said conditions did not indicate any rapid or significant intensification for the end of the dance. The scuffling continued sporadically on some of the buses and windows were smashed and seat cushions slashed.

Several policemen were hit by flying rocks but none was reported injured seriously.

Goldwater Tobacco Brings Good Price

VIDALIA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's campaign coffers benefited to the tune of $182.50 when the Georgia-Florida flue-cured tobacco market opened.

Farmer Frank Moore, 35, sold 146 pounds of tobacco in Goldwater's name Wednesday and said the money would go to the senator's presidential campaign.

A tobacco company buyer paid $1.25 a pound for the tobacco — about twice the going rate.

Highest winds in the wave were estimated at 40 to 50 miles an hour in heavier squalls.

"DEAR ABBY"

MAYBE IT'S OCCUPATIONAL HAZARD!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: About a year ago I went to a hospital and stayed there for six weeks. Last week I had to go back to the same hospital for a little corrective surgery, and what do you think the head nurse greeted me with? "Oh no, not YOU, again, Mrs. So-and-So! When the nurses hear you're back they'll shoot themselves!" Then she laughed. I failed to see anything funny in her remark. When I saw my doctor I reported the incident to him, and he laughed, too. Then he patted me on the shoulder and said, "Oh, don't pay any attention to her. She's a little screwy." Why would a hospital hire a "screwy" head nurse?

double life. I am afraid his wife will find out about it and their home will be broken up. Should I tell the boss what I know so he can be more careful?

NEW GIRL

Dear New: Mind your own business, and tell the telephone operator that if she knows what is good for her, she should mind hers. If the boss chooses to skate on thin ice, let him take his chances.

Confidential To "Can't Sleep" In Troy: Tell your husband what's on your mind and give him a fair chance to defend himself. You could be wrong.

Offerings at Grocery Are Varied

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives will find plenty of offerings at their groceries this weekend to open celebration of August as National Sandwich Month.

Featured fillings for these hot-weather favorites include pork, beef, turkey, salmon and the vegetable companions of lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers.

Beef prices have edged up in some areas, as marketing slackened, but they still remain generally below year-ago levels. Especially plentiful are those top-grade roasts that make the best roast beef sandwiches.

Ground beef is also plentiful. Pork prices have, like beef prices, strengthened in recent weeks, but the increase has not been marked.

Hams, smoked butts and pork shoulders are other attractions. The American Meat Institute suggests such variety sandwiches as cook ham with applesauce and liver sausage with bacon chips. The institute also suggests a list of "breakfast sandwiches," including crisp bacon on cinnamon toast, ground beef on toasted English muffins and a corned beef hash on open-face

Injuries Fatal to Youth, 7

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Steve Hendrix, 7, of Beebe, died in a hospital here Tuesday of injuries suffered Monday when he was hit by a car on U.S. 67 near Beebe.

State Trooper Billy Baker said the boy ran in front of the car driven by Doris E. Marcum of Dallas, Tex. Hendrix was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Hendrix.

Other sandwich supplies include turkeys, off in price in many shops, thanks to a 15 per cent higher output.

Among fresh vegetable attractions this week are cauliflower, salad greens, fresh corn, green beans and tomatoes.

Among fruits, plums and watermelon still enjoy a spotlight but other attractions include lemons, limes, nectarines, blueberries and mangoes.

Many See JFK Collection

CHICAGO (AP)—Doors were kept open past midnight Wednesday night to admit crowds lined up to see the John F. Kennedy memento collection on its last day in Chicago.

A spokesman announced that some 92,000 persons saw the exhibit during its seven days in Chicago, bringing the attendance total in 11 cities to 585,000.

Included in the exhibit are Kennedy's rocking chair, the books he kept on his desk and the coconut he used in World War II to float a message that he and his PT boat crew were stranded on an island.

Copper Is Backbone of Chile Economy

By JOSE M. ORLANDO

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Copper dug under the supervision of U.S. companies supplies the backbone of Chile's economy.

The companies, frequently plagued by strikes, may be taken over by the government after Sept. 4 presidential election. A communist supported candidate who is running a strong race, Salvador Allende, says flatly he will nationalize the mines if elected.

Not all the workers are disgruntled, but one at Sewell, the town around Kennecott's El Teniente Mine, 120 miles south of Santiago, told a reporter the U.S. companies "are like a huge octopus, suffocating us to death." "We need Allende or another leftist to win the election so we can have better salaries and lower prices of consumer goods here," he added. He spoke with the understanding he would not be identified.

The man's grumblings were echoed by half a dozen other miners. They were idly leaning against the rails that keep people from falling down along the stairs that replace streets at Sewell, a town of 13,000 precariously perched on the 45-degree slope of a 9,000-foot mountain.

These men are the best-paid workers in Chile. Against an average per capita income of $325 a year, copper workers make around $2,000 a year, plus such benefits as free medical care and cheap rent.

The Anaconda and Kennecott copper companies handle nearly 90 per cent of copper production in Chile, through a billion-dollar investment in four mines.

The mines include Kennecott's El Teniente, the world's largest underground mine, operated by a subsidiary, the Braden Copper Co.; Anaconda's Chuquibambilla, in northern Chile and one of the biggest open-pit mines in the world; and two smaller Anaconda mines.

These produce well over half a million tons of copper every year. Work has been stopped 123 times by strikes since 1955, when new legislation was adopted. These strikes have cost Chile 280,000 tons and $168 million in lost production.

The two U.S. companies pay the government $80 million a year in taxes. Chile draws around 70 per cent of its foreign exchange earnings from copper.

"If government personnel or workers in other fields go on strike, the government shows a firm hand," said a top executive of a U.S. copper company. "The troops come out, the strikers are fired and the movements are quickly broken."

"But come a copper strike, and the story changes. The government of President Jorge Alessandri doesn't want to endanger the goose laying the golden eggs. So, the ycome to us and say: 'Come on, fellows, give the workers the raises they want so we can settle this thing quick ly.'"

The government feels the companies' charges go too far. "We try to do what is best for our country, but always keeping well in mind the rights and interests of both the companies and the workers," a high official said.

Not all copper workers complain. "We live all right," said Jose Sanhueza, 27. "The food is expensive but we have many other compensations, including good salaries." He makes around $190 a month.

Both Kennecott and Anaconda keep their non-Chilean staffs at a minimum. Out of 7,000 persons working for Kennecott, only 23 are Americans. There are 400 Chileans executives and technicians being paid in dollars. Of the 68,000 persons at Anaconda, 80 are Americans and 320 Chileans earn high salaries paid in dollars.

Senators Can Keep Silent on Interests

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — You won't know for years, at least, how much income your senator may have in addition to his salary or where he got it, unless he volunteers the information. He's going to keep his outside financial interests, if any, to himself.

That's the long and short of what happened this week when senators were confronted with various proposals that they reveal their income for public scrutiny.

Instead, the Senate supported an idea of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Senate Republican leader and long-time foe of efforts to make the Senate do unto itself what it does to others: disclose outside income.

The Dirksen idea calls for a commission to make a two-year study of the whole question of morals among employees of government in all its branches. But the Senate still wouldn't have to do anything about itself, no matter what the commission recommended.

Years ago Congress passed, and later tightened, a law to prevent conflict of interest among employees of the executive branch of government, such conflict meaning the mixing of a government job with personal outside again.

For example: men appointed to high position by the president must get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government. But this does not apply to members of Congress or its employees.

Congress has been urged to take action about itself for more than a dozen years by some liberal senators like Paul Douglas of Illinois and Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, Democrats and Clifford P. Case, New Jersey Republican.

In 1951 Douglas headed a committee which proposed that Congress set up a commission on ethics in government and that all members of Congress and government employees making above a fixed sum in salary be compelled to disclose their income, assets, and all dealings in securities and commodities.

Congress brushed it off. The whole question got new life last year in the Senate's embarrassment of Bobby Baker, who had been secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate for years. He quit his job last Oct. 7.

This was when it became known he had wide-ranging interests and deals while working for the Senate. The Senate then authorized its Rules Committee to investigate to see whether Baker's outside activities had conflicted with his official duties.

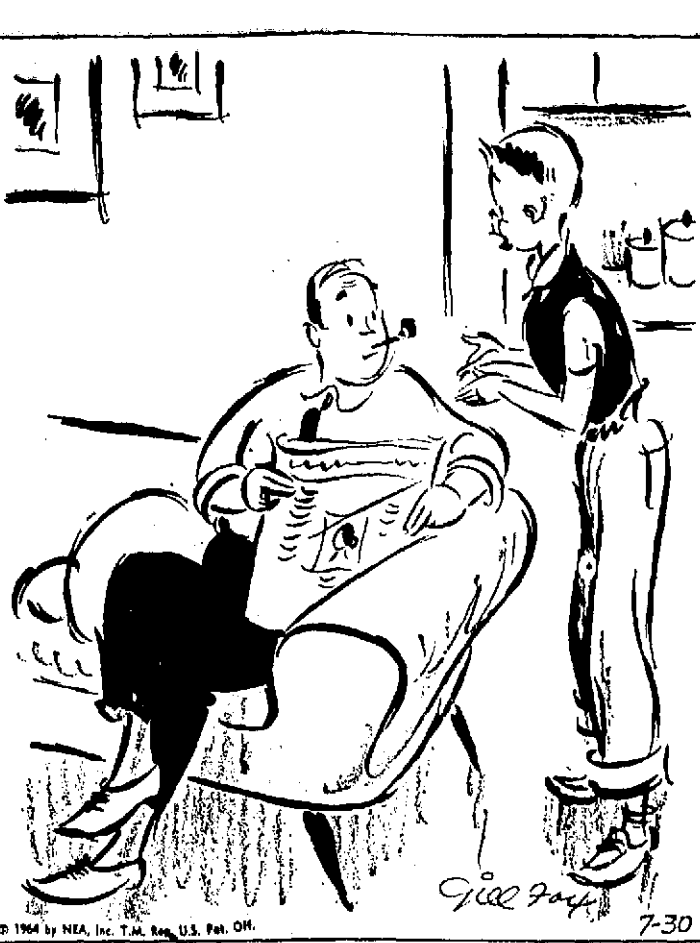

The Senate additionally authorized investigation into the financial or business interests or activities of any officer or employee of the Senate but the Senate didn't authorize an investigation of any senator who might have been mixed up with Baker.

The Rules Committee disclosed that while Baker's Senate majority pay was $19,600 a year he had accumulated a business fortune of $447,849. He refused to testify and thus avoided answering any questions.

In its final report July 9 the committee accused Baker of

World Court Business Still Slow

(AP) Special Report
By MAX HARRISON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The International Court of Justice, popularly known as the World Court, continues to find business slow after 18 years of operation.

This tribunal, located in The Hague, is the judicial arm of the United Nations. It has never been used to the extent that the framers of the U.N. charter hoped. There have been numerous periods when it had nothing to do.

The court has handled 21 "contentious" cases and 12 advisory opinions. Fourteen other cases were brought to the court but were dropped either because they were settled or because one party refused to accept the court's jurisdiction.

The tribunal got off to such slow start that the U.N. General Assembly as early as 1947 appealed to member nations and the U.N. specialized agencies to take their disputes to the court instead of trying to settle them elsewhere.

The appeal had no visible results. Only some 30 countries have bound themselves to accept compulsory jurisdiction of the court. These do not include the United States or any of the Communist countries. Decisions are not binding unless the parties to disputes agree to abide by the decisions.

Advisory opinions, handed down at the request of U.N. bodies or groups of countries, are not binding on anyone.

The court is located in the famous Peace Palace, built in The Hague by steel magnate Andrew Carnegie before World War I. It has a permanent staff of 30 and its latest annual budget was $946,000.

Epidemic of Measles Is on the Wane

By KATHRYN JOHNSON

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The super epidemic of German measles which spread gradually South this spring from New England and then fanned out across the Rockies, is on the wane.

And doctors at the Communicable Disease Center expect few abnormal births from pregnant mothers who have had German measles.

"It's a well-accepted principle that the infection of a woman during her first three months of pregnancy results in high abnormalities," says Dr. John Donald Millar of the surveillance section of the center, a branch of the U.S. Public Health Service.

"But the chances are most pregnant women will have had the German measles in childhood. And the attack rate in adults is lower than in children. Millar says there is no estimate as to how many persons actually were taken ill during the epidemic.

"There have probably been three to four times as many cases of German measles which were never reported," Millar said.

"We get patterns and trends but never 100 per cent reported cases as we do say, in polio.

"German measles, or rubella, occur every year as an epidemic in some localities. But this year it's been a super epidemic, a massive, sweeping one, spreading slowly but patterned almost like an influenza epidemic."

Millar said nationwide epidemics usually occur about every five to six years. The last major one occurred about eight years ago.

A rise in reported cases was first noted in the Northeast with a spread down the Eastern seaboard and on to the West Coast. However, the West Coast reported only the usual incidence of rubella.

The peak was reached in April and May.

"We've not been notified of any death," said Millar, "but there are bound to have been some."

Millar cautioned that a pregnant woman who does contract German measles should contact her doctor immediately. Heart, hearing and cataract malformations are the main defects that might occur in babies.

There is no vaccine at present for German measles—and the center is not researching vaccine.

"many gross improprieties." As a result of its work the committee proposed that senators be required to identify their outside financial interests.

Specifically, this called for senators and Senate employees earning over $10,000 a year to disclose yearly their major outside financial interests but not the value of their holdings nor the income derived from them.

The Senate squelched this. It did the same to an even tougher proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, Delaware Republican who triggered the Baker investigation. He wanted senators and their employees to list each asset, in addition to disclosing their income tax returns.

The Senate also threw out a move by Clark to require a detailed listing of all holdings, income and gifts. So the Senate which is quick to dig into private doings of other government employees, isn't opening any windows on itself.

Yet the Bobby Baker case will probably be an issue, and no doubt an unpleasant one, in this year's presidential race.

cines. "Research is going on elsewhere, however," Millar said.

Gold Loss Battle Not Won as Yet

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The biggest loss of U.S. gold in a year points up the troublesome fact that the battle of the deficits still isn't won. But the dollar's name is so good now that the $70-million gold drain in June, reported this week by the Federal Reserve Board, doesn't worry the money managers the way it would have a year ago. Instead, most of the worry now is concentrated on still another crisis building up for the British pound sterling. And financial circles here as well as abroad wait anxiously to see if the Bank of England will prop the pound by raising interest rates again.
This would add to America's deficit problem by tempting investors with idle dollars to ship them abroad to get higher yields than available here.
The American problem is that despite a surplus of exports over imports, the total outflow of dollars continues greater than the inflow. Last year the loss was $3.3 billion. So far this year the deficit is estimated to have been cut to an annual rate of around $2 billion.
In terms of gold this means that as these surplus dollars pile up abroad some of them can be turned in to the U.S. Treasury for gold, and our reserves drop.
The latest figures on this official reserve put it at $15.46 billion, down only slightly from the year ago figure of $15.63 billion.
The June loss of $70 million was in a special exchange stabilization fund, unreported in the official reserve figures. This special fund can draw on the official reserve when necessary, but its main purpose is to prevent wide swings either way in the value of the dollar in terms of other currencies as international payments vary from month to month.
Gold losses of the fund this year have been $56 million in January, $22 million in February, $34 million in May and $70 million in June. But the fund gained by an inflow of $32 million in gold in March and $177 million in April.

Monsoon in India Is a Bad Thing

By DAN COGGIN
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The rain beats harder and faster. Weeds bend under the pelting. Puddles form. Rivulets ooze into crude shelters where families huddle against the down-pour.
All across the vast subcontinent the hard, driving rains of the monsoon have unleashed their fury. And India's ragged masses, always stalked by hunger, disease and poverty, are prey to the rampaging elements.
To four out of five of India's 465 million people, existing hand-to-mouth in remote villages of festering slums, the monsoon means two to four months of mud, mildew and massive misery.
Downpours day after day turn much of the world's second most populous nation into a nightmarish quagmire.
The fact of hot, dry India transformed. Quiet rivers and streams churn out of their banks. Arid plains bristling with swept are flooded. Hundreds of villages, drought-stricken before the rains, are swept by muddy water. Dusty roads winding through parched wastelands are suddenly awash. Scorched plots where peasants scratch out a living become marshy graves of ruined crops. Mud seems to engulf the land.
Summer rains are vital for food production in India, still far from agricultural self-sufficiency. But when the monsoon is severe, as it was in June and most of July, the always troublesome problem of feeding India's hungry millions become critical.
The Indian government has smothered the flames of crisis this summer through huge wheat and rice purchases from the United States, Pakistan and Australia.
The monsoon can be a blessing to India, with gentle rains that paint the land green, help the crops and relieve the heat. But this summer's monsoon will be remembered as one that did more harm and caused more suffering than anything else.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fame and popular affection, however much desired by an actor, are not always unmixed blessings.
Ray Walston, the Actors Studio alumnus and Broadway stage veteran who plays the title role in CBS' "My Favorite Martian," spent all of last season emotionally torn between the joy of starring in a hit series and stewing because he was convinced he was type-cast, the actor's worst bugaboo.
This fear now has been banished. Two days after production of the CBS comedy-fantasy shut down for the season, Walston was called to replace Peter Sellers, felled by a heart attack, in Billy Wilder's film comedy, "Kiss Me, Stupid."
"The television series had nothing to do with it," Walston explained. "I had a small role in 'The Apartment,' and Wilder told me then that some day he'd have a good part for me. He remembered."
Walston works at his acting as conscientiously as a young athlete determined to stay in peak form. A punching bag and bar bells are handy outside his dressing room. He rides a bicycle around the studio and, at home, often pedals two miles up a steep hill.
Television repertory, started last season with NBC's "Richard Boone Show" anthology series, will be attempted again next season on CBS' weekly review series, "The Entertainers." Carol Burnett, Bob Newhart and Caterina Valente will be the show toppers, but the company will include a number of young newcomers.

er of U.S. gold, getting around $100 million every three months. This has been offset by U.S. purchases of gold this year, part of it stemming back to Soviet selling of gold to buy grain.
Britain's currency problem is of a more serious nature. Its imports have been rising and its exports have fallen behind. It now runs a trade deficit, contrasted to the U.S. trade surplus; and the pound sterling has been weakening in the international money markets. This is the seventh such sterling crisis since World War II.
To curb inflationary trends at home and loss of reserves, the Bank of England in February raised 5 per cent from 4 per cent its bank rate — the charge for lending to British banks which acts as a guide for all interest rates there. Now there is talk that the rate may go up again, to 5½ per cent, and some say even to 6 per cent.

Peru Makes Progress in Achievements

By THOMAS J. STONE

LIMA, Peru (AP)—President Fernando Belaunde Terry is starting his second year in office, proud of his record and confident of the future.

In reply to questions submitted by The Associated Press, the 50-year-old president of Peru said major achievements of his administration include enactment of the nation's first agrarian reform law, doubled dollar reserves, increased construction of highways and low-cost housing, increased foreign investment, and prospects of stronger relations with the United States.

He said elections have proved "that communism lacks backing" in Peru, and that the identification of Cuba's Fidel Castro with communism "limits that foreign influence to a very small following."

Belaunde, elected for a six-year term, said he considered the revival of municipal elections as a major achievement during his first year in office.

"For more than 40 years Peruvian heads of government, on taking office, appointed at will approximately 15,000 mayors and municipal officeholders," he recalled.

The president said his government's main objective now "is to maintain and strengthen a climate of human solidarity and social justice within constitutional bounds."

Pointing to economic gains, Belaunde said:

"When I assumed the presidency, Peru was unjustly bypassed as far as the granting of credits go. Within one year we have obtained loans from international development institutions amounting to $124 million."

Peru, the president declared, is "faithfully fulfilling its role in the Alliance for Progress" while the Peace Corps is helping to

Bondsman Plan Good, Long Sleep

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Alan Golan is looking forward to sleeping better, without nocturnal phone calls for the first time in months.

He went to court Wednesday as Allan Z. Goldberg and obtained permission to change his name.

A man named Allan Goldberg is a bail bondsman who is frequently called at odd hours to post bond for persons under arrest—but callers frequently mixed up the phone numbers.

When he regained consciousness he was in a helicopter which took him to an ambulance, which took him to a hospital.

Doctors found only slight cuts and bruises and sent him home.

Robert said riding in the helicopter was more fun even than sliding down the hill.

Riding Copter Was More Fun

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert Lee, 10, had put in a hard day sliding down a sandy hill above Ocean Beach.

Then he slid too far, tumbled down a 200-foot rocky cliff, and fetched up unconscious on the beach.

When he regained consciousness he was in a helicopter which took him to an ambulance, which took him to a hospital.

Doctors found only slight cuts and bruises and sent him home.

Robert said riding in the helicopter was more fun even than sliding down the hill.

State Lawmakers Against Quota

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., disagreed with his colleague, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and voted against a bill Tuesday to put import quotas on beef, veal and mutton.

The Senate passed the bill 72-15. The Johnson administration opposed the bill.

Wen Feme

Robert Frost had written poetry since youth, but his first book, "A Boy's Will" was not published, until he was a man of 38, living in England. When he returned to the U.S. in his 40th year, he found himself famous.
